

National Hypertension Control Roundtable

You are invited to the upcoming virtual Act for Equity Summit for the National Hypertension Control Roundtable (NHCR) on September 15 and 16, 2022.

The two-day online, interactive summit will explore hypertension and public health—the latest science, understanding disparate impacts for women and people of color, and systems-level solutions to address hypertension control.

Dr. Scott Flinn, Regional Medical Director for Blue Shield of California, will be attending the summit, along with other leaders from private, public, and nonprofit organizations with important perspectives and experiences to share regarding hypertension prevention, awareness, and control.
