What are the browser requirements for accessing www.mywellvolution.com?

If you would like to access mywellvolution.com on your computer, the browser requirements are as follows:

- Internet Explorer (IE): Mywellvolution.com wellness programs are supported by the “last four” versions of Internet Explorer at any given time. For example, the newest version of IE is IE11, which means versions IE8, IE9, IE10, and IE11 will optimally support products. When a new browser version is released, support for the oldest one is retired because Microsoft will no longer support it.
- Firefox, Safari and Chrome: These browsers are self-updating, so the latest version will optimally support the Wellvolution programs. We recommend that you access www.mywellvolution.com and participate in the wellness programs using one of these browsers.

How do you pick my step goal?

Your Walkadoo step goals are based on your own individual walking history. Walkadoo looks at your last nine days of steps and chooses a goal for you between your highest and lowest step count during that period.

If you have a few higher step count days in your nine-day history, you may find your step goals are a bit higher. However, if you have a few lower days, your step count will also come back down.

If your goal is toward the higher end of your own personal nine-day spectrum, you'll receive more points for reaching your goal. If the goal is lower, your points are lower as well.

There is no setting in Walkadoo to adjust your step goals higher or lower. The site adjusts to reflect your own activity level. Walkadoo challenges you to get more active without pushing you to do more than you've shown you can do before.

How do I know what my daily step goal is?

You'll receive an email or text with your daily step card. We use this card to assign your daily Walkadoo step goal. There are three types of cards:

Normal Card: This is the most common card in Walkadoo. Walk your Normal card's step goal by midnight tonight to earn a point reward. If you don't meet your Normal step goal, you can still earn some points. We know it's tough sometimes to find the time to get out and walk. Walkadoo rewards you for partial credit for Normal cards.

All or Nothing Card: An All or Nothing card appears rarely. It's worth twice what you would normally get for completing your card! But there's a catch: there's no partial credit. If you don't complete the card, you don't get any points. So there's high risk and a high reward.

Unlimited Card: This is the rarest of cards. Unlike Normal and All or Nothing cards, there's no limit to how many points you can earn when you get this card.

What is a Walkie Talkie?

A Walkie Talkie is a fun daily prompt meant to get you talking with your fellow Walkadoo'ers! The Walkie Talkie consists of a short walking-related fact and then a related question for you to answer. Every time you answer your Walkie Talkie, you earn 50 points!
